

The Community Justice Coalition and the International Commission of Jurists Australia

Present a seminar

Education in Prison

Thursday November 25th, 5.30 – 7.30pm

Parliament House Sydney, Room 814-815

Speakers:

Maree O'Halloran, President of the National Welfare Rights Network and Director of the Welfare Rights Centre in Sydney. Formerly President of the NSW Teachers Federation, taught in schools, TAFE and Long Bay Prison.

Brad Parker, CFMEU Construction and General Division. Seven years a member of the Correctional Industries Consultative Council representing Unions NSW. Recipient of 'The Excellence in Corrections Award' for work initiated in both the Employment for Ex-Offenders Project and the Aboriginal Housing Project.

Luke Grant, Department of Corrective Services Assistant Commissioner, Offender Services and Programs since June 2006, responsible for offender services and programs in custody and in the community including Corrective Services Industries and inmate classification and case management.

Mark Middleton, Ex-prisoner, current university student.

Questions from the floor

A donation at the door would be appreciated.
Please email your intention to be present.

Contact

info@communityjusticecoalition.org
www.communityjusticecoalition.org
www.icj-aust.org.au

